This agreement states term and conditions under which Total Canine (TC Training) will provide training for you and your dog. The following terms must be agreed to prior to the start of training. Where the name TC Training appears in this contract is to include Tina Carey.

- ❖ All training sessions will include training with the dog and owner. The owner understands that the progress of training depends on him or her cooperating fully with the trainer. If the owner fails to cooperate with the training, TC Training does not assure or accept responsibility for any action of the owner or the dog. TC Training is not responsible for the actions of the dog or owner during or after the training.

- ❖ The dog must be under the complete control of its owner or handler at all times during training. If the trainer is injured during training, as a result of negligence by the handler, the owner will pay all medical cost. If at any time, the owner or handler fails to train the dog as required by the trainer, all training will stop, further training will be cancelled and all money previously paid will be forfeited. The trainer will determine the negligence. Price shall be agreed upon before the start of training.

- ❖ The owner understands that all dogs are trainable to a different extent. The ability to train the dogs to the desired level will depend on the factors such as age, medical condition, genetics, drive, previous training, breeding, etc. TC Training will make every possible effort to train your dog to its best possible performance level, given these factors. The owner understands that their dog may not reach the same level as other dogs trained by TC Training. In order for any obedience courses to be a success, it is critical that the owner be willing to incorporate the obedience commands into everyday life. The time and effort that the owner invests into training will determine the success of the training.
- ❖ If during training, the owner stops or delay training for any reason or the dog becomes ill; TC Training shall have the right to stop the training without being liable to the owner. The owner shall pay any balance due when he or she interrupts training or if the interruption is due to the illness of your dog. When the problem is resolved, the dog's training may be continued at no additional cost. If the interruption in training is due to the illness of the dog, training will resume only after a veterinarian verifies that the dog's health will permit resumption of training. The owner understands that an interruption in training may have an adverse effect on the performance level of the dog. It may be necessary to expand the training schedule in order to achieve the desired level of performance. If such expanded training is desired, the owner could be charged for the additional training time.

- ❖ If doing remote collar training, the dog(s) will spend week 1 learning basic commands, then introduced to the remote collar by week 2. Owner understands that it may take their dog(s) a couple weeks to become fully acclimated to the remote collar. TC does not guarantee your dog to be off leash at the end of the 2-week session.

RULES, REGULATIONS & WAIVER

Injuries and Illness

Total Canine strives to provide your dog with excellent care and fun while training with us. Although the dogs are supervised at all time during training, injuries can still occur, such as scratches, cuts or sprained joints. Such injuries are rare, but they do happen at all day care/boarding/training facilities. In addition, while infrequent, dogs can get into fights, even under close supervision. Common areas of bites as a result of these fights are the snout, ears, tuft of the neck and paws. However, even the friendliest of dogs can get into fights with very little warning. Should a fight occur, you release Total Canine/FuzzFace and Friends from any responsibility from injury or death. You also agree that Total Canine will not be liable for any vet bills the dog(s) may need. YOU will be responsible for any damages your dog may sustain, and any damage to the property of Total Canine and FuzzFace and Friends

In addition to injuries, it is possible for dogs to transfer illness such as upper respiratory infections and kennel cough, even with the required vaccinations and boosters. This is just like school for children where the flu or strep can be passed from child to child. Such illnesses do not occur often and all dogs must have the necessary vaccinations at check in.

- ❖ Any interruption in training caused by or at the request of TC Training, the owner will not be charged for any such delay or interruption, nor for any additional training time needed over the above agreed upon schedule.
- ❖ The owner on behalf of himself or herself and any other person handling the dog during training, hereby waives any and all claims and causes of action he, she or
